

Details published of 71 charities registered during April 2018

29 May, 2018

The applications of 71 charitable organisations were approved by the Charities Regulator during April 2018 and added to the Register of Charities.

A total of 287 charities have been registered during the first four months of the year, bringing the number of charities on the register to 9,327 at the end of April.

“The Register of Charities is an important resource for the public,” Charities Regulator Chief Executive John Farrelly said. “We would encourage anyone who is considering supporting a charity through donations, volunteering, or in any other way, to check their entry on the public register in order to learn more about them.”

The Register of Charities can be searched or downloaded from the Charities Regulator’s website www.charitiesregulator.ie
